An EPA representative will give a status report on the EPA Moderate Area PM-10 Federal Implementation Plan (FIP). On January 21, 1999, the Environmental Protection Agency proposed a revision to the Moderate Area PM-10 FIP. The revision would modify the fugitive dust rule to add or replace certain test methods, include coverage of unpaved roads neither owned nor maintained by a public entity and allow alternative control measures to be implemented without prior EPA approval. The deadline for submitting comments to EPA is March 8, 1999.

EPA has now received a draft report from its consultant on unpaved roads. Local governments are currently reviewing the draft information.

Also, the Arizona Center for Law in the Public Interest filed a legal challenge to the EPA Moderate Area PM-10 FIP on October 2, 1998. As discussed at the last meeting, a copy of the Center's brief is provided for your information. Please refer to the enclosed material.
